CLOSING PARTY

WIT FOR GOOD
QUIZ, ART & TALENT AUCTION

Hosted by

Go City

Since 2008, WIT For Good, through supporting local arts and crafts, as well as local communities, has raised about US$800,000 for the betterment of women and children throughout Asia.

Last year, with your generosity, we raised close to US$80,000 for the Himmapaan Foundation's "Sunshine Project" which supports "Send A Kid To School" and "Teacher to Mountain" programmes, and Elephant Nature Park, a sanctuary in Northern Thailand for elephants and other animals, needing shelter and care.

We followed up with a visit to a local school in the mountain village of Padeng and met the kids and teachers, as well as the Elephant Nature Park. Kids, teachers and elephants thank you for your generosity.

This year's WiT For Good will support the Orphaned Starfish Foundation which teaches IT skills to kids in orphanages. It builds state-of-the-art computer centres and to date, it has 79 computer centres in 33 countries. It has four centres in Asia – in the Philippines, Cambodia and Nepal. WiT For Good will support its Asia programme.

Here's what we are raising for

Donation Amount	Impact of Donation
USD 100,000	Supports English Language Programming across all Orphaned Starfish Programs
USD 50,000	Supports all operations for any of the 33 Orphaned Starfish countries ($100K for US, Brazil or Colombia)
USD 25,000	Supports all computers for any of the 80 Orphaned Starfish Programs
USD 10,000	Supports a teacher's salary in any of the 80 Orphaned Starfish Programs for one year
USD 5,000	Provides 10 new computers to a program around the world or half a teacher's salary for a year
USD 1,000	Provides 1 month of a teacher's salary or two computers to a program around the world
USD 500	Provides a new computer to a program in any Orphaned Starfish Program around the world
USD 200	Supports a child's technology education in one of the Orphaned Starfish programs worldwide
USD 100	Supports a child's English Language education in one of the Orphaned Starfish programs worldwide

This year, we'll be raising funds through a fun quiz as well as auction of art, experiences and talent at the Closing Party & WiT For Good Quiz, Art & Talent Auction hosted by Go City, on Oct 4, from 5.30PM to 8.30PM.

Thank you to our donors for their generosity.

Donations can also be made directly at OSF.org/donate

Here's what you can bid for on the night of Oct 4

1. Woodcut prints by Artist-in-Residence, Djuwadi Ahwal

Yogyakarta/Timor Leste
 Ubah Rumah Residency Artist, Nikoi Island
 Member of Taring Padi

Djuwadi Ahwal (b. 1974), part of Nikoi Island's Ubah Rumah Artist-in-Residence programme, is a self-taught and accomplished artist from Blora district Central Jawa, Indonesia, who is well-known for his woodcut prints and highly skilled in Javanese wood carving. He will be creating special woodcut prints for WiT.

2. Print: I Love Tom Tom, by Bill Bensley (donated by Robert Hecker)

Bill Bensley is the renowned hotel designer, architect and landscape artist who has created extraordinary hotels in Asia. He's also a prolific artist and his happy, quirky, colourful style of work has captured the imagination of art collectors in Thailand and abroad. This print, "I Love Tom Tom" was bought by Robert Hecker to support the Shinta Mani Foundation. "I bought it because of the colours and patterns, and slight abstraction to the face," he says.

3. Omri Morgenshtern, CEO, Agoda, plus dinner in Bangkok

This new generation leader is passionate about all things AI as well as CRISPR. So if you want to know where travel is headed, along with humanity, this is the prize to bid for. Omri's startup Qlicka was acquired by Booking Holdings in 2014 and he took up the CEO reins of Agoda in July 2022. You can imagine what you can learn from him, plus he is also a graduate of the prestigious Talpiot program of the Israel Defense Forces.

Two hours' worth of mentoring time plus Omri will recommend restaurant based on preference of bidder

5. Two nights on Cempedak, Adult-only Private Island, Indonesia

A private island experience like no other, off Bintan, Indonesia. The resort, made entirely of bamboo, is a one-of-a-kind. Worth its weight in white, powdery sand. And its sustainable practices make it a role model for future resorts.

Value: S$950

4. Kerry Healy, Chief Commercial Officer, Premium, Midscale & Economy Division - Middle East, Africa, Turkey & Asia Pacific, Accor plus a meal

No one knows sales and e-commerce better than this dynamo of a hotelier who's built her career with Accor over the years, overseeing Asia and now the Middle East. Kerry is always willing to share her time, experience and knowledge with those willing to learn.

A golden opportunity to spend time with Kerry over a meal and pick her brains

6. Two nights at Lisu Lodge, Chiang Mai, Thailand

A great escape into the rural environs of Chiang Mai where you get to spend your days and nights in beautifully-built lodges and get a taste of hilltribe community life and, of course, good food. Inclusive of dinner and breakfast for two persons
