Since 2008, WiT For Good, through supporting local arts and crafts, as well as local communities, has raised more than US$1,000,000 for the betterment of women and children throughout Asia.

Last year, with your generosity, we raised close to US$60,000 for Saab Shares, a not-for-profit organization in Indonesia, working to reduce poverty and increase support for marginalized communities in Indonesia through children's education, healthcare access and women's empowerment programs.

Saab Shares is an extension of an initiative that Sabrina Bensawan launched when she was 16 with the support of her sister, Elena, who was then 14. The two sisters were listed in Forbes' 30 under 30 – Asia – Social Entrepreneurs in 2019. Sabrina was also recognised as EY Social Entrepreneur of the Year 2018.

WiT For Good 2025 In Support of Saab Shares

This year, due to the stellar work done by the sisters with the funds raised in 2024, we will once again support their social enterprise Saab Shares.

In 2024, WiT For Good's support kept our Rumah Belajar in three locations running for two full years, opened computer classes in remote villages, and provided scholarships to children who need them most. It also allowed us to upgrade facilities, build safe spaces, and deliver school essentials - ensuring every child we serve has the tools, skills, and confidence to shape a brighter future.

- Sabrina and Elena Bensawan

Key Milestones in 2024

Thanks to the 2024 funds, Saab Shares achieved transformative milestones across education, infrastructure, and child welfare:

Two years of operational support

for our Rumah Belajar in Jakarta, Desa Fodo, and Desa Sifalaete – ensuring free education and skills classes continue uninterrupted.

40 full-year scholarships

for siblings of children with terminal illnesses and children with disabilities – breaking barriers to education for the most overlooked.

Construction of a washroom facility

in Desa Orahili – providing clean, safe sanitation for the community.

Revitalisation of our Rumah Belajar

branch in Desa Fodo – upgrading facilities to create a more inspiring learning environment.

Construction of a safehouse

(Q3–Q4 project) for underprivileged children to live in a nurturing environment, literacy to rural classrooms.

Purchase of laptops

for computer classes in Desa Hilimbosi, Desa Sifalaete, Desa Fodo, and Desa Fanedanu – bringing digital literacy to rural classrooms.

Distribution of school essentials

– backpacks, shoes, stationery, and vitamins – to children in Jakarta, Desa Fodo, and to siblings of children with terminal illnesses.

Dancing with Whale Sharks by Kristian Schmidt

You learnt all about him on stage and now you get to own a piece of his incredible work, with this autographed, limited print edition. We asked Kristian how this gem of a shot happened, and here's what he said, "It was very random how it happened. I was diving with Richard Branson in Isla Mujeres with whale sharks and I thought I must do a shoot with this. He recommend a small island in Oslob Philippines where there is usually a lot of whale shark feeding and no one there.

"Two weeks later I meet an underwater model in Miami and quickly we put a crew together to get this project going, we didn't really do it for any reason but to have the experience and had no idea it would blow up so big. It got released in 200 publications worldwide and put in some of the most well-known galleries. We were very lucky."

We're very lucky too that Kristian has donated this piece for our auction.

“The Next 20” Dance, Orchestrated by ZUZU Hospitality’s Vikram Malhi

In May 2023, fresh out of the pandemic, Vikram Malhi, CEO and founder of ZUZU Hospitality, told WiT in an interview, “we didn’t just weather the storm but we danced in the rain.” They had just raised $9 million. From that moment, a tradition was set – that Vikram would orchestrate a dance performance at WiT For Good to share its good fortune. This is the third year, it deserves the biggest pledge you can make.
